The Week in Review

This was a busy week! Tuesday Liz was at the Middleburg Livestock Auction. Wednesday, the Lewisburg Farmers Market and the Ballot Access Protest in Elliptsburg, PA. Friday, the Sayre Farmers Market and the Summer Concert in Lock Haven, PA. Saturday Liz joined the Summer Vendor Fair at the American Legion in Towanda, PA.

The Week Ahead

This is our last week to collect signatures to get Liz Terwilliger on the November ballot. We will be posting locations where we'll be collecting signatures on our Facebook page, in addition to the following.

Share your Thoughts

I've been traveling around the 12th District this week collecting the signatures I need to get my name on the November ballot. I've also been having interesting discussions with people I've met. I really enjoy engaging with people on topics that fire them up.

At the Lewisburg Farmers Market on Wednesday, I met a man passionate about ending human trafficking. At the Sayre Farmers Market on Friday, I met a man frustrated with corruption in county government. Friday evening, at the Summer Concert in Lock Haven, I met a woman enthusiastic about veterans' issues.

We need to engage more in conversations about complex issues. We need to listen to more people and hear their perspectives and experiences. We need to plan together to move forward.

To move beyond conversations, I have started building an Issues Team as part of my campaign committee. This is a team of people, each passionate about their own topic, diving deeper to move from conversations to action.

If there's an issue that moves you. If you want to find out more about our Issues Team, contact us!
