

Liz Terwilliger for Congress

A Representative not a Politician

February 28, 2020

Why am I running

I am beyond frustrated with career politicians of both major parties.

I'm tired of the partisanship, the bickering and the bullying.

I am not a politician. I'm a speech therapist, working with families in Bradford and Sullivan Counties every work day.

We don't need more politicians. We need representatives.

We need representatives who are members of our communities, not out of touch with our communities.

We need representatives who listen to their constituents and to each other.

We need representatives who will consider what's best for the People, not what's best politically.

We need representatives who will go to Congress for a short period of time, not make a career out of it.

We need representatives who are not afraid to do the right thing because it might hurt them in the next election.

I don't think we need more politicians. I think we need representatives.
